A few of the citizens of Cairo, who are not in favor of such a strict quarantine, appealed to Dr. Eagan yesterday to lift the restrictions here and make the train inspections and the quarantine less stringent. Dr. Eagan stated that there was more of a necessity of restrictions now than at any other time and refused to do anything that would lift the quarantine in any particular.

"The people should not be guided by the reports from New Orleans alone," said Dr. Eagan. "While the authorities there have the situation well in hand, the fever is spreading rapidly in other parts of the south and there is more danger of infection now than at any other time this year."

THE WEEK'S NEWS IN THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

Bank clearings this week...$613,719 Same week last year, ..... 757,528

The committee and sub-committees of the Commercial club appointed to look after the Methodist college work is quietly doing its duty, but there are no developments of importance. The board of education of the church is expected to meet at Lexington the 29th of this month to decide the college location, but judging from letters written by members of the board the question of a site is not to be decided at the meeting, and may not even come up. Paducah will not abate her efforts to land the college, however.

Mr. H. T. Ogden, cashier of the Hazel bank at Hazel, Calloway county, has sold his stock to Mr. H. L. Neely, agent for the N. C. & St. L. there, and it is understood goes to Louisville to locate and become one of the promoters of small banks to be established throughout the south. Mr. Neely will succeed him as cashier at Hazel.

The Commercial club committee appointed to secure subscriptions of stock for the wheel company that desires to locate here reports that it is meeting with success and encouragement. In a few days a meeting will be held to ascertain what the prospects are for having the entire $10,000 subscribed.

Business in the electrical line as far as wiring is concerned, has never been better in Paducah than it is at present. There is a small army of electrical workers employed in Paducah and everyone is busy. Since a city electrical inspector was appointed to have all bad wiring changed, which was about three months ago, it is estimated by electrical workers that at least $10,000 worth of new wiring has been done. Several new electrical wiring firms have sprung into existence and men from all over the country sent for in order that the work be completed within the specified time.

The track at Oblon river where the disastrous wreck occurred two days ago has been cleared of all debris and all trains are running through on schedule time.

The wrecking crews are now working with the engines and trucks of cars hoisting them out of the ravine and also getting out what freight is possible to save.

The road will lose a great deal by the accident, as many thousand dollars in rolling stock is smashed up to say nothing of the value of the freight lost.

The body of Engineer Williamson of Memphis, was recovered yesterday afternoon late and sent home for interment. This was the last body to be recovered.

Engineer Armstrong is reported resting easy and so far no evidence of internal injuries of any seriousness has developed. The other three injured men are resting well at the hospital.

SUMMARY ACTION AGAINST PALMER

Public Printer is "Fired" by Telegram From President.

He Had Disobeyed the Recent Instructions Relative to the Foreman.

WHOSE RESIGNATION HE ASKED

Oyster Bay, Sept. 9.—President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon took summary action in the case of Frank W. Palmer, public printer and head of the government printing office at Washington, by removing him from office.

Last Monday the president requested Palmer to send to him his resignation to take effect the 15th inst. At the same time he directed him not to take any further action in the cases of H. J. Ricketts, foreman of the printing and C. L. Hay, a division foreman in the government printing office, whose resignation Palmer has requested.

Palmer had given Ricketts and Hay until Tuesday to show the cause in writing why charges he had made against them should not be operative in removing them from their positions in event of their failure to resign.

In direct disobedience of the president's directions, Palmer in the 5th inst., notified Ricketts and Hay the time which they might have in which to answer his charges would be extended until Saturday the 9th inst.

As this was not only a violation of the president's specific instructions, but as the case of Ricketts and Hay had been placed in the hands of the Keep commission for investigation, the president felt it was time to take positive action regarding Palmer. He therefore removed him from the office by telegraph and directed him to turn over the government printing office to Foreman Ricketts, whom he has designated as acting public printer.

It can be said the appointment of Ricketts as acting public printer is not an assurance that he will succeed permanently to that office. The president has not determined yet whom he may appoint as successor to Palmer. It is not unlikely that final determination of the question may depend to considerable extent upon the result of the investigation into the affairs of the government printing office by the Keep commission.

The government has suspended five newspapers, and it is expected that the publication of others will be prevented.

Government officials and the better class of Japanese citizens are expressing keen regret over the attacks on the Christian churches. They explain that the affair was the result of local conditions and does not indicate any serious anti-foreign or anti-Christian feeling.

The members of the Harriman party have gone to Nikko, having cancelled the local program for their entertainment. The present quietness is ascribed largely to the heavy rain which scattered the crowds, and to the presence of military guards.

A MONTANA BELLE MARRIES IN HASTE

To Keep From Wedding Senator Clark's Mine Manager.

A Hot Springs, Ark., Doctor the Lucky Man—Had to Hide to Escape Girl's Fiance.

AND A LOUISVILLE ELOPEMENT

Butte, Mont., Sept. 9.—Dr. James T. Jelks, of Hot Springs, Ark., came to Butte and married Miss Belle McKaskle, daughter of W. C. McKaskle, a rich mine owner of Pony, Mont., and thereby nearly precipitated a tragedy.

Jelks met and became infatuated with Miss McKaskle at Hot Springs three years ago, and they became engaged, but on the young lady's return to Montana the engagement was broken off, her parents opposing it. Dr. Jelks, however, was a persistent wooer, and has made frequent trips to Montana. For several weeks Miss McKaskle has been visiting in Butte, where she is a great social favorite. It was understood that she was to marry Adolph Heilbrunner, manager for Senator Clark's enterprises, but a few days ago she sent a telegram to Dr. Jelks, asking him to come to her rescue, and he appeared on the scene this morning.

An hour later he was married to the girl, and then the rejected lover heard of it and there was danger in the air. Friends took the young man in charge and Dr. Jelks and his bride were kept in hiding until 5 o'clock, when they departed for Hot Springs over the Union Pacific. The girl's parents were desperate, but could not reach Butte, and the young people refused to answer telegrams or telephone messages.

Last June a young man at Virginia City, who had made preparations to marry Miss McKaskle and was disappointed, had to be sent to an asylum. She is said to be the handsomest woman in the state. She is 21 years of age.

Capt. Scholt's Daughter Marries.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 9.—A romance extending over an acquaintance of three years, was culminated Thursday, when Elbert M. Allen and Miss Florence F. Scholt, daughter of Captain Max Scholt, were secretly married by Magistrate B. T. Nixon, of Jeffersonville. The parents of both objected. Mr. Allen went to Jeffersonville Wednesday to make all arrangements, as the elopement was evidently planned beforehand, and he went to Miss Scholt's home apparently to take her to the Masonic theater. Instead of going to the theater they met two friends, and the four proceeded to the home of Magistrate Nixon, in Jeffersonville where they were married.

R. K. Munk truck.

As autumn draws near the younger contingent, who have spent the summer so gaily, will be leaving for school and college. The absence of the boys and girls who are such acquisitions to society, from the gatherings of the winter, are always deeply regretted.

It looks as if there is to be a lull in the gay social world for the next few weeks until the numerous clubs reorganize and begin their regular meetings and society takes up the more serious duties of winter entertainments.

"The Horse Show," which is to be held here in October, will be one of the most notable events of the coming season. That is where dame fashion flourishes and the scene is sure to be a brilliant one.

Theatrical Notes

A number of shows have cancelled this season at account of changes in their routes of the quarantines in the south, but a number of good shows will soon be at The Kentucky. The "Rajah of Hong" has been secured for the formal winter opening of the house. The next attraction on the books is "Polly Primrose" on September 19.

The Casino Stock company ends its season at the Casino in Wallace park tonight, but the moving pictures will continue the remainder of the month. The theater closes for the season October 1.

"Polly Primrose," the central figure on the play of that name which is to be at The Kentucky on Sept. 19, makes war with her piano on the Union preferences of her father's guest, while the rest of the household is plotting to aid Lee's descent on Washington; and after a lot of amusing vicissitudes goes to the altar to the stirring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner." A play that begins one way and ends another must needs be full of excitement and surprises and situations that arouse and entertain. "Polly Primrose" is a war story with all these elements in it lived throughout by the wit and vivacity and fineness of the beautiful Polly herself. It has been performed with enormous success in every city in which it has been staged and will undoubtedly attract large audiences here.

The Frank Dudley Stock company is being organized in Cairo for the coming season. Rehearsals will begin Monday. The company was booked for Paducah this week, but didn't organize in time and cancelled.

ACTION RESCINDED.

The Contract For Coal For the Schools Goes to the Bell Union Company.

The board of education held a called session last night and reconsidered the action by which the contract for furnishing coal for the public schools this winter was awarded to the West Kentucky, the St. Bernard and the Central Coal and Iron company, and awarded the contract to the Bell Union company, which is represented by Harth Brothers, grain dealers. The bid of the successful company was 8 8-10 cents a bushel for nut and 9 7-10 per bushel for lump coal, with no extra charge for weighing on the city scales.

A number of the trustees did not consider the lowest bid in this instance the best, but they were in the minority when the vote was taken, and the Bell Union company landed the contract.

Daily Thought.

He is richest who is content with the least, for content is the wealth of nature.—Socrates.

COST OF A NEWSPAPER.

With a view to affording the general reader an idea of the immense cost of printing a modern newspaper, particularly in the large cities of America, says an editorial in Newspaper, the following authentic figures are submitted for inspection:
Composition (weekly payroll)—Baltimore American, $2,000; Boston Globe, $4,100; Cincinnati Enquirer,
$4,200; St. Louis Globe-Democrat,
$3,000; New York Herald, $4,000, and other papers in proportion. Another very heavy item of expense is the bills for special telegrams. On the Chicago Herald a few years ago
they ran to $6,500 per month; Chicago Tribune, $5,000; Cincinnati Enquirer $5,500; New York World,
$9,500; St. Louis Globe-Democrat
$12,000; San Francisco Examiner
$8,000; Boston Herald, $6,000, and
St. Louis Republic, $4,000.

Then there comes the most heartbreaking account of all, the white paper bill. On the New York World it runs to about $700,000 per year;
and on the New York American about the same; on the Chicago News about $350,000; on the Boston Globe and Herald about $350,000 each; on many other papers it runs from $100,000 to a quarter of a million dollars every twelve months. On some of the weekly journals the paper bills are even higher, for the reason that a better grade of material is used.

The ink bills are also enormous,
while the pay of the writing staff, particularly on the metropolitan papers, and the artists' department consumes tens of thousands of dollars per week.
On special occasions, like the present war between Japan and Russia, for instance, the pay of correspondents and artists aggregates an immense sum, and their traveling and other expenses is much more. It is no wonder it takes nerve as well as cash to conduct a great newspaper in these days. The expenses of the smaller papers are in direct proportion to those of the larger.

As usual a howl will go up from some quarters because another man is to enter public life from the ranks of those who have made American commerce, manufactures and finance what they are: "Why, that man used to belong to the trust," or, "He was attorney for the trusts," or perhaps "He was a banker," are some of the exclamations of people who are not big enough to see the broad world as it appears beyond the confines of their own narrow imaginations. When good, great men are wanted for public service, however, where can they be found quicker than among the master minds that have made the United States great through her commercial and financial institutions? If a lawyer is needed, which shall be taken, a man who has achieved little or no success, or one who has risen to national fame and fortune by his successful handling of big interests? If an engineer is wanted, which is preferable, one who builds a foot bridge and lays off streets, or one who builds railroads and canals? If a financier is needed, whom should we choose, a provincial banker, or a man whose financial operations have won the admiration of the world? The answer is plain.

When men who have built up reputations and fortunes in certain lines are willing to retire and enter public service, they are usually good material, and it is likely that no country in the world ever had such a number of distinguished, capable men at the head of its affairs as the United States now boasts of.

The Mayfield Messenger is one democratic paper that opposes the democratic scheme to do away with the Australian ballot system. It says: "We think the advocates of the amendment to the Constitution will become ashamed of their job. People have no idea of returning to conditions of half a century ago. They believe in every man voting his sentiments regardless of fear or favor. All of this idea of the old fashioned viva voce vote is far fetched, and doesn't mean anything to purify the elections in Kentucky."

Bankruptcy Notice.

In the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Kentucky, in Bankruptcy.

In the matter of John J. Bleich,

a bankrupt.

On the 8th day of September, A.
D. 1905, on considering the petition of the aforesaid bankrupt for discharge, filed on the 7th day of September, A. D. 1905, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 23rd day of September, A. D. 1905, before said court, at Louisville, said district, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, or as near thereto as practicable; and that notice thereof be published one time in the Paducah Sun, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

Witness the Honorable Walter Evans, Judge of the said court, and the seal thereof, at Paducah, in said district, on the 8th day of September,
A. D. 1905.

Clerk Made Out the Checks.

The statement yesterday that there was a delay in delivering city checks to those allowed money by the legislative boards, because Treasurer Dorian had the checks to make out at the last minute, was a mistake. The checks were made out as usual by the city clerk, and not by Treasurer Dorian. The delay was occasioned by a legal question that was finally settled by the solicitor.

Another Engine Test.

It is stated that the test of the big 812 on the Paducah district having proven successful, the engine will be taken to the Louisville district where a little steeper grade with more hills will be encountered. It is thought the big engine will work with as much success on the east end as she did on the Paducah district.

LAURENCE WILLIS ACQUITTED TODAY

Eleven of Jury for Acquittal
From the First Ballot.

Ends a Long-Fought Case in Which Was Mixed Much Tragedy
and Grief.

WILLIS' FRIENDS ARE ELATED

The jury in the murder case of Laurence Willis, at Cadiz, Trigg county, this morning at 10:30 o'clock brought in a verdict of "not guilty" and young Willis, for the first time in over two years, was a free man.

Willis was charged with the murder of his uncle, Lieutenant W. B.
Johnston, who was killed near Canton, Trigg county, March 1, 1903.
The victim of the assassination was shot through a window as he was retiring and lived but a short time.
Laurence Willis, for various reasons, was arrested for the crime, and convicted and given a life sentence, at the first trial, although he was apparently so confident of acquittal that he neglected countless opportunities to escape.

He was granted a new trial and brought to Paducah for safe keeping, the Cadiz jail being unsafe, and spent several months as a guest of Jailer Fayette Jones. The case was tried two or three times at Cadiz,
the jury being unable to agree except at the first trial. Willis, some months ago executed bond and was released.

It was not believed that he would ever be convicted again, especially as two of the most important witnesses have died since the first trial.

Willis is a young man, and made many friends while in Paducah, although during his stay here he was a prisoner in the county jail. Those who saw him nearly always called again and showed him many favors.
The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon and the jury stood from the first eleven for acquittal
and one for conviction.

Willis comes of a prominent family but one which has been torn by factional differences for several years.

Hon. Charles K. Wheeler, of Paducah, was the principal attorney for the defense and Thursday made an able speech for his client.

NO SHORTAGE.
Balance in Mayfield Bank Clears Threes Furlings.

Evansville Ind. Sept. 9.—The examination of the books in the State bank at Haubstadt, Ind., that began last Monday under the supervision of H. H. Ogden, president of the West Side bank of this city, has been finished. Last Saturday Alois Zillak the retiring president of the bank, announced there was a shortage and the directors of the institution were still under this impression until today, when word was received from a bank at Mayfield, Ky., that the Haubstadt bank was credited with over $5,000 there which more than wiped out the alleged shortage. No trace of Theob. Farthing has been found his relatives asserting they have not seen or heard from him since Thursday a week ago, when he came to this city on the eve of a meeting of the directors of the Haubstadt bank to audit the books.

BACK TO BOOKS AND SLATES ON MONDAY

Meeting of Principals Held at High School Today.

Everything Ready for the Opening of the Public Schools Next Week.

McKINLEY SCHOOL IS READY.

This morning a principal's meeting was held at the high school building in the office of Supt. C. M. Leth, and all arrangements for the opening of school Monday made.

This year those applying for entrance cards will have to go to the teacher into whose room the pupil expects to go. This work of issuing entrance cards had been done heretofore by the superintendent, but the new rule will relieve him of this and distribute the work equally among the teachers.

All teachers are here ready to go to work except Prof. W. H. Sugg, who is ill and off on a two weeks' vacation.
His school will be managed by Miss Emma Morgan, teacher of English in the high school, until he recovers, and on his return Miss Morgan will take up her regular duties at the high school.

Mattie Anderson, colored, has been selected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Robertson in the colored schools. She will not secure Robertson's place, but will take a minor grade a general change up resulting in the colored school.

The McKinley school in Mechanics-burg will be finished by Monday, the contractors say, all remaining to be done being a little painting and the installation of the furnace. The furnace can be put in after school starts.

STRANGE LETTER.

It is Addressed to a Firm Out of Date
20 Years.

Mr. Olin Leigh received a letter yesterday from far away Barcelona, Spain, from a man who from every indication is a physician, but on account of the writing, could not decipher the hieroglyphics.

The letter was addressed to a firm which has been out of existence 20 years or more, which makes the letter more interesting. It is addressed thus:

Extends Unidos.
Sres Leigh Bros, 1 Hamilton,
Paducah, Ky.

Instead of using the sign "&" "I"
is used, and all through the letter instead of saying "I," the writer uses the letter "Y." The letter desires to investigate into the sale of notions and also offers some side lines for sale.

Mr. Leigh's father was in business back of the "Cherry grocery on South Second street with Hamilton as a partner in the printing and notions business. The firm has not been in existence for more than 20 years, and how the Barcelona gentleman got hold of the firm name is a mystery to Mr. Leigh.

The letter will be preserved by Mr.
Leigh as a curiosity.

COMING BACK.

Walter Coleman Did Not Have Yellow Fever.

Walter Coleman, the young railroader who was taken to New Orleans from Paducah last week by detectives to answer to the charge of box car breaking, is en route home and the report that he had yellow fever was erroneous.

Coleman was ill of chills and fever here and this was one of the main reasons he did not desire to return to New Orleans.

Finally he agreed to go and did accompany the officers to New Orleans. He grew worse in health and was confined two or three days to his bed from fever.

An attorney in the case wrote Attorney H. Corbett that it was thought Coleman had yellow fever, but a letter this morning to the young man's wife who is in Paducah, stated that he did not have yellow fever.

HANGING TO LIMB.

People Are Satisfied Whether It Was Suicide or Lynching.

Brandon, Miss., Sept. 9.—A negro by the name of John McDowell was found dead thirteen miles north of here hanging to a limb on the public road. It is thought by some that the negro was hung by parties for bad conduct, as the negro had the day before gotten after a white man named Holmes with a large knife and run him into an old cotton house, where Holmes kept the door for protection. The negro told Holmes he would kill him when he would come out. The negro sat down there with his knife for about four hours when a white man went near the house, and Holmes called to him and the negro ran off. Others think the negro, from remorse of conscience, after reflection, felt so bad about his unusual conduct that he procured a rope and hung himself. Anyway, the people there seem better satisfied, as they are rid of a bad negro.

STREETS OF PEKIN.

To Be Decorated in Honor of Miss Roosevelt.

Pekin, Sept. 9.—President Roosevelt's success in bringing the peace negotiations to a successful conclusion has greatly increased American prestige in China. The impending visit to Pekin of Miss Roosevelt still further increases respect for Americans among the Chinese. The empress dowager is preparing a stately reception for the president's daughter. The streets of Pekin are being cleansed and decorated in her honor. An official order has been issued requiring all mudhouses on the main street to be faced with brick in order to present a better appearance to the American visitors.

The increased prestige obtained by President Roosevelt through the peace negotiations, together with the official discouragement which it has met, has almost wiped out the boycott movement against American goods and American merchants in this city and Tien Tsin. No had effects are now felt from it. In Shanghai also the movement is expiring.

Yucatan Chill Tonic
 Perfectly Made IMPROVED Positive Cure
 A medicine to produce results must be made right. Tasteless Chill Tonics are not and we will prove it. No two bottles of tasteless tonics have the same amount of medicine, as the dose is uncertain. At least 20 per cent. of the medicine remains in the bottle. A tasteless tonic cannot usually be retained as it upsets the stomach. More than 100,000,000 people are not satisfied with the acid, dissolving the genuine product that will last. Then every time a dose is taken that will shake the bottle. The more you take the sicker you get. A medicine that overcomes all these faults is what the people and the profession are looking for. They will find it in Yucatan Chill Tonic. (Don't) One bottle is worth a dozen of the tasteless kinds. Yucatan is the only tonic that drives the material germs out of the system. Wonderful results when used in cases of 1771 and malarial fevers. Physicians who wish to prescribe this tonic under an ethical name will receive valuable information and literature by telephone.
 Price 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

KENTUCKIANS ARE FOUND EVERYWHERE

Former Paducah Writes Intelligently of Sights and Scenes About Portsmouth, N. H.

Hotel Wentworth, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, September 6. —After all, it is a mighty small world we live in. Away up here on the Maine border, about as far as a man can get from God's country and still stay in the United States, one wouldn't expect to find many Kentuckians, or many southerners, but the woods are full of 'em.

Soon after we came up to Portsmouth for the peace conference, I noticed at the hotel a remarkably handsome woman, wearing beautiful frocks. Somebody said she was from Washington and had thirteen living children, some of whom looked almost as old as their mother. Subsequently I met her and she told me, with a good deal of pride—pardonable pride I think—that she was a Kentucky woman, a native of Oldham county I believe she said.

Next to her the most attractive proposition about the place was a little bit of a creature, who had a French husband. She used to go around wearing about half a million dollars worth of diamonds before breakfast, but she was a good-looking all right. I supposed, as did nearly everybody else around the Wentworth that she was a Parisian—might have been the original Miss Plaster of Paris for all we knew—until we got acquainted, then it developed that she was born and reared in Louisville, but had lived abroad for a long time.

There were other incidents which have brought a realization of the small culture of this planet home to me even more forcibly. A day or two ago while a lot of reporters were over at Kittery, which is in Maine, watching the navy yard to see when the envoys came out, a typical Down East Yankee, with a game leg, hobbled up to look us over. I got to talking to him and found out he was a veteran of the civil war. When he learned I came from the south, and notably from Kentucky, he sat up and took notice.

"I never was in Kentucky but once," he said in a dialect I won't try to imitate. "I was serving guns on a gunboat, and I got crippled up by a falling spar while we was bombarding a Kentucky town on the Ohio river. I was laid up six months that time."

"What was the name of the town?" I asked.
 "Paduky!"
 Funny, wasn't it? But the experience, in a way, was to be duplicated the same afternoon. A pretty gunboat, looking like a bride in its coat of white, slipped down the river from the harbor and halted at a mooring almost opposite where the bunch of correspondents sat. Pretty soon a lot of Jackies pulled ashore. One of them stopped and told us that the gunboat was the Dubuque.

"She's a dandy," he said, "fast as lightning. And there's another just like her that's just been finished—the Paducah."

Only today I met a Canadian editor who asked me if Paducah wasn't the town in which they made all the whiskey. Evidently the fame of Brook Hill has crossed the line into John Bull's territory. There was another man who remembered Paducah as the place where George Ade laid the scene of his first successful Fable in Slang, the one about Zoraster and Zendaevista, the two knockabout comedians.

The hotel clerk, or rather the head hotel clerk is a Virginian and the gentlemanly barkeeper in the palm garden back of the Wentworth talks from Nashville. The guests include people from half a dozen southern cities, and among the correspondents are a Texan, an Arkansaw traveler, a South Carolinian, a Georgian, this last being a son of Sam Small, the Atlanta evangelist, and your humble servant.

But there are a lot of things that are not a little bit southern at the hotel. The bell-boys are colored, and they speak with correct Boston accents. Some of them go to Harvard in the winter and carry ice water and clean towels through the corridors of summer hotels during vacation. It sounds funny to hear a bell-boy, as black as a stick of licorice, using the broad A in conversation.

And here's another fact which struck me as unusual. You don't find any of the natives talking the kind of lingo that is spoken in the Old Homestead and "Way Down East" school of drama. The typical Gosh characters seem to exist only on the stage, as far as I have been able to tell after four weeks up here. As a matter of fact an educated New Englander's accent is very much like that of an educated English or Kentuckian and five hundred per cent more southern in its tones and shadings than the nasal twang of an Indian or an Ohio man, living perhaps only 40 or 50 miles from the border between the North and Dixie.

But there is one thing which is emphatically Yankee, as we have been taught to look on Yankee institutions. I'm speaking now of the way this hotel soaks the prices to the correspondents. We pay triple for everything. Rates for table board are $1 a day straight and the Palmer House in Paducah has the fare beaten a block. The newspaper men embrace fifteen nationalities and they hail from every corner of creation, including Australia, Siberia, Brazil and South Africa, not to mention the large European and Asiatic countries; and all of them unite in saying that the Wentworth, when it comes to charging fancy rates, puts it all over the rest of the world.

The clientele this season, before the peace conference befell, included the usual run as one finds it at any sub-fashionable hotel on this coast—papas from Pittsburg and Peoria in white pique waistcoats with rapid-fire checkbooks in their breast pockets; mamas going on fifty-five in girly-girly shirtings buttoned down the back and enterprising displays of real jewels; automobile fiends, goggled and helmeted like deep-sea divers; Sadie girls, in white frocks and bangles on both wrists; Sadie boys, with nothing of importance under their hats except the parts in their hair, and all the rest of it, including an orchestra that went to work right after breakfast and a head-waiter owning his own dress suit.

Then came the conference. It too big a proposition for any summer hotel on earth the size of this one to swing on short notice. The envoys expected good-sized suites. They got a room apiece and a bath-room apiece, with open plumbing to make things look cheerful and home-like. The Russian dining room was a converted bedroom—not a very large bedroom. When all the Russians were at meals together the waiters stood outside the door. The Russians, fearing complications, were said to abstain from foods that are calculated to swell one up. The corridor of the annex where Witte and Rosen were housed, is neatly and durably furnished, but compact as to size. Most of the time a very large baby carriage belonging to a young heiress stood just at the foot of the stairs. The other night when Witte came downstairs to greet the correspondents he and Rosen had to crowd in behind the spreading antlers of the baby carriage. Coming into the annex on this historic occasion most of the correspondents fell over the carriage's wheels. Swear words were emitted in five known languages.

The foreign mind has been at a loss to grasp the American system of closing up nights as practised here amongst us at Newcastle, between 11 and 12 o'clock in the evening the elevator is hermetically sealed. Through the lobby and the hall electric lights are turned out to save wear and tear on insulations. The man who tucks in from the palm garden towards the limousine hour of midnight finds the lobby a large vaulted cavern, polka-dotted at remote intervals with incandescent fire flies. Ebony bellhops are going around, requesting belated persons to kindly stand with their feet off the floor while the bellhops take up the company rugs and shift the property palms. There is one brightly illumined spot. Above the desk is a perfect blaze of light, composed of three globes, and here you behold a lean and hungry Cassius of a night cashier, visibly taking on flesh as he taps up gratifying totals against your name.

Certain features of our domestic luster life have also impressed themselves upon the Muscovite and the Oriental. This island excels in mosquitoes and challenges the world on houseflies. It was funny, a few nights ago, to watch the expression of the Nipponese face as its owner saw the dressed-up native moving about the drawing room, carrying in one hand a bunch of lighted punk-sticks and in the other a small vial of the official perfume—oil of sassafras—panishing anon to wave the former about and anoint features, ankles and wrist joints with the latter.

The New Hampshire coast most of it is a seab. He has no union card. The organized skaters of Jersey work eight hours, but daytime and night look alike to all journeymen of the craft up this way. There are pretty weedless woodlands fair orchard meadows and cut-plush lawns around the Wentworth, for this is a regular green-velvet country to look at, but the visitor dare not go afield even in the high noon for a ramble. Once off the auto-bedeviled roadway and Mr. Skeeter nabs you. Some of the best blood of Russia and Japan is now coursing through the veins of the Wentworth's mosquito staff.

The flies hold the dining room concession. In the internal economy of this hotel fly-screens for the dining-room don't figure. Flies come in from the kitchen—devil-may-care fashion, holsters flies that forgot to wipe their feet, and from the stables near by—horses, husky flies, full of shop-talk. A short life and a merry one for these fellows. Some, dying, fall into your lemon ice, where they loom up like a split infinitive in a Harvard essay. Others have extensively autographed the French windows at the east end of the long room.

'Tis to the palm garden one must go for personal experience with a sliding scale of prices which slides but one way—upward. Drinks started out to be 15 cents a head or two for a quarter. That was before the envoys and the correspondents arrived.

A plain drink—that is, whiskey straight—is now 20 cents. A high-ball is a mixed drink because it contains both whiskey and seltzer, and the tax is 25 cents in each instance. Ordinary cocktails, sans cherry, sans lemon peel, are quoted weak at 25 also. The palm garden had a cocktail cherry until last Thursday when somebody insisted on having it brought in and took it away with him. Charet lemonades, mint juleps (Wentworth edition) and horse necks grade up 30 to 40 cents. The process of reason employed in differentiating between a plain drink and a mixed offers attractive psychological features. For example:

A palm gardenet, feeling poorly, called for blackberry brandy—a plain drink. The bill came to 20 cents. After he paid it he decided to season the brandy up and ordered a dash of nutmeg. The waiter then collected 5 cents more, the addition of the nutmeg having made it a mixed drink.

The prevalent style in mint juleps causes a turning over of the Kentuckians in their graves every time the barkeep here complies one. He gets 35 cents for a julep, but it's worth the money—food, drink and a shady place to sit under, all combined. As he interprets it, the julep includes ice, a whole lemon—a lemon in a julep!—rye whiskey, a dense undergrowth of mint and mint foliage on top, various flora and fauna not classified, pickled fruit and a thick, lathery-looking mass of something or other on top.

The Wentworth julep only needs a crust on it to be a pie. Like nearly all the other American correspondents I came here, pro-Japanese in my sympathies. I will go away, now that the conference is about ended, pro-Russian. That is we still think the Japanese were in the right of it in the late war, but on personal acquaintance, we like the Russians better. My table in the dining room is only a few feet away from where Baron Komura and some of his suite sit, three times a day. I have yet to see him smile or display any interest in anything except his vitals. He is about the size of a district telegraph messenger boy and wrinkled and shriveled to boot.

These Japanese don't strike you as being flesh and blood creatures. They suggest automatic devices, cogs in a great machine which does its work mechanically. On the other hand the Russians are jovial, polite, friendly men thoroughly human in every imaginable aspect and from every viewpoint Witte is awkward as a bear and dresses like a Ballard county tobacco hand, but he fairly radiates power and strength. Looking at him you realize, as if by instinct, that here is one of the really great men of the earth. He is easily the most popular of the plenipotentiaries.

There is also an American who is pretty popular in these parts just now—Theodore Roosevelt. Democrats and republicans, foreigners and Americans unite in praising him for his work in bringing about peace. Those who have been here on the ground and who know how the negotiations have proceeded, agree in saying that had not the president interfered when he did, the conference would now be off and the war be on. Even a good democrat can say this without damaging his political convictions and I think I'm still a good democrat. Anyway I joined Tammany Hall this week and expect to vote at least once for McClellan for mayor in November.

By the way, Col. Ed Farley would enjoy conditions in Kittery. There are 500 voters there and 199 of them are orthodox republicans. The remaining two hundredth is a democrat, but he suffers from creeping paralysis and don't always get to the polls. There used to be two democrats in Kittery but a wave of sickness came along and wiped out half the party at one lick.

Before long if the Sun and the Sun's readers can stand a second dose I'm going to write you a Paducahian's Impressions of Life in New York City.

Yours, Marooned in Maine,
 IRVIN S. COHLE.

Finally I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. # The Return of SHERLOCK HOLMES

By A. CONAN DOYLE

Author of "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" and "The Hound of the Baskervilles." The Story of the Four: "A Study in Scarlet," etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY F. D. STEEL

The Adventure of the Second Stain

No. 13 of the Series

My friend has so often astonished me in the course of our adventures that it was with a sense of exultation that I realized how completely I had astonished him. He stared in amazement and then snatched the paper from my hands. "This was the paragraph which I had been engaged in reading when he rose from his chair."

MURDER IN WESTMINSTER
A crime of mysterious character was committed last night at 10 Godolphin street, one of the old-fashioned and secluded rows of eighteenth century houses which lie between the river and the abbey, almost in the shadow of the great tower of the houses of parliament. This small but select mansion has been inhabited for some years by Mr. Eduardo Lucas, well known in society circles both on account of his charming personality and because he has the well deserved reputation of being one of the best amateur tennis players in the country. Mr. Lucas is an unmarried man, thirty-four years of age, and his establishment consists of Mrs. Tringle, an elderly housekeeper, and of Milton, his valet. "He returns early and sleeps at the top of the house. The valet was out for the evening, sitting a friend at Hammersmith. From his bedroom Mr. Lucas had the house to himself."

What occurred during that time has not yet transpired. But at a quarter to 12 Police Constable Barrett, passing along Godolphin street, observed that the door of No. 10 was ajar. He knocked, but received no answer. Perceiving a light in the room, he advanced into the passage and again knocked, but without reply. He then pushed open the door and entered. "The room was in a state of wild disorder. The furniture being all moved to one side and one chair lying on its back in the center. Beside this chair and still clinging one of its legs to the unfortunate remains of the room. Mr. Eduardo Lucas was lying on the floor, his head against the wall, his face pale as death, his hands clasped in prayer. He had been committed to a curved Indian dagger, planted down from a tripod of colored glass which stood on one of the walls. But he did not appear to have been the motive of the crime, for there had been no attempt to remove the valuable contents of the room. Mr. Eduardo Lucas was so well known and popular that his death had excited a great deal of interest and intense sympathy in a widespread circle of friends."

"Well, Watson, what do you make of this?" asked Holmes after a long pause. "It is an amazing coincidence."

"A coincidence! Here is one of the three men whom we had named as possible suspects in this drama, and he meets a violent death during the very hours when we know that that drama was being enacted. The odds are enormous against its being coincidence. No chance could express them? No, my dear Watson, the two events were connected—must be connected. It is for us to find the connection."

"That was the official police must know all."

"Not at all. They know all they see at Godolphin street. They know—and still know—nothing of Whitehall terrace. Only we know both events and can trace the relation between them. There is one obvious point which would in any case have turned up suspicious toward Lucas. Godolphin street, Westminster, is only a few minutes' walk from Whitehall terrace. The other secret agents whom I have named live in the extreme west end. It was easier, therefore, for Lucas than for the others to establish a connection or receive a message from the Bureau secretary's household—a small thing, and yet it may prove essential. Hello! What have we here?"

Mrs. Hudson had appeared with a lady's card upon her salver. Holmes glanced at it, raised his eyebrows and handed it over to me.

"Ask Lady Hilda Tremayne Hope if she will be kind enough to step up," said he.

A moment later our modest apartment, already so distinguished that morning, was further honored by the entrance of the most lovely woman in London. I had often heard of the beauty of the youngest daughter of the Duke of Westminster, but no description of it had prepared me for the subtle, delicate charm and the beautiful coloring of that exquisite head. And yet as we saw it that autumn morning it was not its beauty which would be the first thing to impress the observer. The cheeks were lovely, but it was paled with emotion; the eyes were bright, but it was the brightness of fever; the sensitive mouth was tight and drawn in an effort after self command. Terror not beauty was what sprung first to the eye.

"Has my husband been here, Mr. Holmes?"

"Yes, madam, he has been here."

"Mr. Holmes, I implore you not to tell him that I came here!" Holmes bowed and motioned her to a chair.

"Your ladyship places me in a very delicate position. I beg that you will sit down and tell me what you desire, but I fear that I cannot make any unconditional promise."

She swept across the room and seated herself with her back to the window. It was a queerly prescient—tall, graceful and intensely womanly.

"Mr. Holmes," she said, and her white-gloved hands clasped and uncloped as she spoke. "I will speak freely to you in the hopes that it may induce you to speak frankly to me. There is complete confidence between my husband and me on all matters save one. That one is politics. On this his lips are sealed. He tells me nothing. Now, I am aware that there was a most deplorable occurrence in our house last night. I know that a paper has disappeared. But because the matter is political my husband refuses to take me into his complete confidence. Now it is essential—essential, I say—that I should thoroughly understand it. You are the only other person, save only these politicians, who knows the true facts. I beg you then, Mr. Holmes, to tell exactly what has happened and what it will lead to. Tell me all, Mr. Holmes. Let no regard for your client's interests keep you silent, for I assure you that his interests, if he would only see it, would be best served by taking me into his complete confidence. What was this paper which was stolen?"

"Madam, what you ask me is really impossible."

"She groined and sank her face in her hands."

"You must see that this is so, madam. If your husband thinks fit to keep you in the dark over this matter, is it for me, who have only learned the true facts under the pledge of professional secrecy, to tell what he has withheld? It is not fair to ask it. It is him whom you must ask."

"I have asked him. I come to you as a last resource. But without your telling me anything definite, Mr. Holmes, you may do a great service if you would enlighten me on one point."

"What is it, madam?"

"Is my husband's political career likely to suffer through this incident?"

"Well, madam, unless it is set right it may certainly have a very unfortunate effect."

"Ah!" She threw in her breath sharply, as one whose doubts are resolved.

"One more question, Mr. Holmes. From an expression which my husband dropped in the first shock of this disaster I understood that terrible public consequences might arise from the loss of this document."

"If he said so I certainly cannot deny it."

"Of what nature are they?"

A FOOLISH PLAN

This is a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hours because I find indigestion with August Flower!

Constipation is the result of indigestion, biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself.

"I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course."

What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills.

August Flower gives new life to the liver and restores healthy stools.

Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Tobacco Men Have Been Holding a Conference at Hopdown.

Hopdown, Ky., Sept. 9.—Farmers, business men and tobacco dealers are interested in a series of conferences which have been held this week in Hopdown between representatives of the Italian government and the Dark District Planters' Protective Association.

Commissioner Joseph Ferigo, of New York, and W. G. Dunnington of Farmersville, Va., together with the various regie contractors in this region have been behind closed doors with Chairman Felix G. Ewing, of the Farmers' Association, Chief Inspector Warfield and other leading officials of the organization. Nothing was made public as to the result of the conference, but it is known that the association's samples have been inspected and that an important deal may be consummated.

Sales this year have been less than half as large as last year and there are only about 500 hogheads on the market. The association has practically all the remainder of the tobacco in the district. It is announced that the following regie agents have been reappointed:

Tandy & Fairleigh, Clarksville; Hopdown district; W. C. White, Gallitz; William McMurray, Springfield, Tenn.

The Ohio River snaphoot E. A. Woodruff is at work on a hulk of an old wharfbat at Madison, Ind.

In a recent decision by the United States district court of Louisiana it was held that the right of a steamer to maintain her course or speed even against small craft like a skiff or yawl is negative and not absolute. When in a neighborhood usually frequented by such craft the court held that in case of fog the usual signals to other vessels were not sufficient warning and that river men must proceed with care and exercise watchfulness.

Paducah correspondent St. Louis Waterways Journal says: Marine hospital service in Paducah is very poor (speaking from experience) and for a port of this size it is too bad indeed. There are more boats whose crews are shipped out of Paducah than any place south of Cincinnati.

The steamers Eliza and Eagan are aground on sandbars below lock No. 2 on the Ohio river. Both boats were being used in transferring material for the building of the dam. The Eagan ran on a sandbar Monday and all efforts to get her loose were futile.

St. Louis boats have been able to stay in the river all summer, says the Nashville Banner. Last year the stage of water became so low that all the regular line of Tennessee river boats had to rest for several weeks and Cumberland river craft brought in to take their places. There is no expectation of such occurrence this year. There are on the river now two beautiful new floating palaces, the City of Saltillo, making the St. Louis run, the largest and most magnificent boat on the river, and the City of Charleston, making trips from Florence to Savannah and Florence to Guntersville. This is quite an acquisition, as there has not been a boat running that distance up the river for some time.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

The Warren, which will take the Dick Fowler's place in the Calro trade when the water gets low, was constructed at Diamond Bluffs, Wis., and her home port is Vicksburg, Miss. She is 134 feet long, being about eight feet longer than the M. P. Wells.

It is announced that the owners of the Island Queen will place that steamer in the month of the Kentucky river for the winter. The boat may be sent there within a month. The month of that stream sheltered several steamers and towboats during the great ice siege early this year.

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 40c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

PADUCAH MAN

Figures in Dispatches Regarding Objectionable Letter.

Walton, Ky., Sept. 9.—C. F. Hogsett, former cashier of the Tobacco Growers' bank of Crittenden, Ky., who wrote an alleged objectionable letter in regard to Miss Maggie Vallandigham to Bernard Myers, of Paducah, Ky., signed a libel in the presence of a notary yesterday. Hogsett was caught by Postoffice Inspector Spears by comparing the writing in the bank books with the assigned letter sent to Myers. The letter was placed in the hands of the federal authorities by Myers, who is soon to marry Miss Vallandigham. He stated that upon the signing of the libel he was willing to drop the prosecution, so far as he is concerned, though if summoned he will appear before the United States court.

The plant was to have been sold August 14, but on account of an error in advertisement it had to be deferred.

THE GRAND JURY'S TIME WAS EXTENDED

Will Have Another Week in Which to do its Work.

Rufe Neece Gets Off With Sentence of Three Years For Manslaughter.

NEWS OF THE OTHER COURTS.

Circuit court lasted only a short time today, there being but two defendants before the court.

While McClelland, the 14-year-old negro boy who broke into the Rehkopf residence at Fifth and Monroe streets, and the Haker residence two blocks further up the street, and stole rings and other articles from the servant's quarters, pleaded guilty and was given two years in the penitentiary. He will be sent to the return school, Judge Reed stated.

Leander Donald, colored, who stole a lot of wearing apparel from the residence of Rev. Armstrong, pleaded guilty and was given two years in the penitentiary.

The jury in the Rufe Neece case reached a verdict late yesterday afternoon after being out over 24 hours and returned it at 4:30 o'clock. Neece got three years for killing Jesse Ingram near Oaks, this county. Neece was door keeper to a colored "social," and claims Ingram wanted to get in for nothing, and a quarrel ensued, Ingram getting rocks and trying to strike Neece, who shot him. The jury first stood 9 for 5 years and 3 for acquittal.

Shirley Hughes, colored, who sold a bicycle which did not belong to him, was found guilty of obtaining money by false pretenses and given one year in the penitentiary.

Cal. Hinton was fined $50 and costs for maintaining a nuisance in the way of an objectionable saloon.

Grand Jury's Time Extended.

The grand jury returned three in dictments this morning. One is against George Denny, colored, and Zona Moore, colored, charging them with stealing from E. H. Wilson, on May 17, $40 in money, and one returned against John Jenkins colored, charging him with malicious assault on Cassie Hughes, colored, on April 25th.

The time of the grand jury was extended another week.

Civil Docket.

Miss Ella Bryan was appointed an examiner to hold office at the court house in County Judge R. T. Lightfoot's office.

A judgment for divorce was filed in the case of Julia Adams against Lee Elbert Adams.

Suit Compromised.

As forecast several weeks ago, the suits of Jos. L. Friedman, D. G. Murrell, L. M. Riecke, Sr., Charles Riecke, Elms Lack, J. A. Bauer, W. F. Bradshaw, Mrs. Joe Post and others against E. W. Smith, the former Paducah tobacco man, but now of Los Angeles, Cal., for a total of about $16,000, has been compromised. The plaintiffs alleged that the mine they had been induced to invest in was worthless, and charged misrepresentation, and attached Mr. Smith's Paducah property. It is understood that the only thing Mr.

Smith agreed to in the compromise was that he would not sue any of the plaintiffs for attaching his property. It seems that after the suits were filed capitalists offered to buy the mines and pay what the Paducah people had paid for their shares, which knocked out the latter's case against Mr. Smith, and it was claimed that they had paid for damages for tying up his property here. Since the suits were filed the mines, which are up about Golconda, Ill., have been bought by Messrs. W. F. Doherty, David Peyton, G. H. Holzberg and A. A. Schwartz, of Jeffersonville, Ind., and Frank Sweeney, of New Albany, Ind.

Mr. L. W. Cruse, a part owner in the mine question, and who claims to be friendly to both sides, has been largely instrumental in making the compromise, which, however, will not be effected until the money is paid over by the Indiana people, and the cases are called in circuit court next month and dismissed.

Mr. Cruse denies the statements in other papers that Mr. Smith paid a cent to anyone. He says in a statement written out today:

"The only thing that Mr. Smith or his attorneys ever signed or agreed to, was an order which is to be filed in the court when the purchase of the mine is paid by Peyton, and others to the owners of the mine. Mr. Smith being one of the owners of the stock, and receiving a part of the purchase price. The order is as follows:

"These foregoing consolidated actions are dismissed by plaintiffs, defendant agreeing to bring no suit on account of subject matter of this litigation, or anything arising therefrom." . . . and I desire to say most emphatically that not one cent of the purchase price of this property was, directly or indirectly, or in any way, paid by Mr. Smith, or any one for him, but on the contrary, every cent was paid and to be paid by the purchasers of the mine to the owners of the mine.

"The fact is further that the purchasers of the mine had experts working there for some months, and, discovering the mine to be of great value instead of worthless, they were very desirous to purchase, and paid purchase same in good faith, paying their money therefor; and Mr. Smith did not agree to pay one cent by way of costs, or for anything else, in way of settlement of these suits."

Deeds.

J. D. McElroy deeded to T. A. Wade, for $6,000, property in the county.

L. D. Potter deeded to Mann Clark for $120, property on North Seventh street, the property having been sold by order of court in the case of Well & Son against Henry Kahn.

Ed. Thurman and others deeded to H. R. Lindsey, for $1 and other considerations, property at 23rd and Trimble streets.

Ed. Thurman and others deeded to Minerva Thurman, for $1 and other considerations, property at 23rd and Trimble streets.

Ed. Thurman and others to G. H. Russell, for $220, property near 23rd and Trimble streets.

Sold Last in New York.

Attorney A. Y. Martin trustee in the bankrupt matter of Dreyfus & Brother, this morning closed a deal by wire disposing of four lots in Yonkers, N. Y., for $500. This is one of the last steps taken in settling up the estate although there remains one piece of property here yet to be sold. The New York property was bought during a boom and cost $1,100.

Surrendered Lease to Trustee.

The matter of a lease held by W. N. Levan on property adjoining the Hessig distillery has been settled by Levan relinquishing claims on the property and receiving an indemnity of $70.

When the estate of the bankrupt in the case of H. T. Hessig was being settled up, Levan claimed to legally hold the property on a two-year lease but the evidence showed the lease to have been made after the act of bankruptcy. An attempt was made to hold the property, which is the residence of Levan, one year on another plea, but the court decided against him. By agreement of the trustees the property was surrendered and the indemnity paid.

Young's Court.

Constable A. C. Shelton, of Meachlesburg, on the Colliersville and Lovelaceville road arrested Ed. Riehl, colored, on the charge of whipping his wife. The prisoner was brought to town and arraigned before Justice Jesse Young who fined him $15.

U. S. Commissioner's Court.

Mr. Herman Friedman, of the A. M. Laveison works, was yesterday acquitted in Commissioner Gardner's court of the charge of selling Pale Ale, on the 8th of August at the fair grounds without a license. It seems that a negro sold the beverage and claimed he acted as the agent of the Laveison company. The evidence was heard and the defendant, Mr. Friedman, acquitted as he had simply sold the beverage to the negro, and had nothing to do with its sale at the fair ground.

County Court.

The liquor license of E. A. Voight in "Jersey" was transferred in county court today to Dye & Stewart.

Lee Easley, aged 24, and Nannu Mabrey, aged 21 of the county, colored, were released to wed today.

Police Court.

John Hale, colored, known as "Brownie," was this morning discharged in police court on a charge of malicious shooting with intent to kill.

He shot Eliza Harris and Roscoe Washington, colored. The two, with Will Loving, followed Hale and Tom Striblefield and assaulted them. Hale shot in self-defense, the evidence showed.

The commonwealth asked for a warrant against Hale for carrying concealed weapons and the warrant will be issued today. Hale was recognized to appear Monday to answer to this charge.

Other cases were: W. D. Berger, white, drunk, $1 and costs; Roy Moore, colored, breach of the peace, $5 and costs; Lydia Dunning, white, drunk and disorderly, $20 and costs; Edward Hankey, white, malicious cutting, continued; Sam Hobbs, colored, $1 and costs for using insulting language and a malicious cutting charge dismissed; Tom Baker, accessor to malicious cutting colored, held to answer; Rosa Williams, Annie Wallace colored, breach of the peace $5 and costs; Dora Mayes, white, disorderly house, continued; Riley Swift white, breach of the peace, continued; Sam Gold, colored, stealing coal, held over.

License to Marry.

William Smith, aged 36, and Miss Nellie Moody, aged 24, were today licensed to marry.

PECULIAR THINGS TOLD BY TELEGRAM

Fat Pork Used as Stomach Pump Saves Two Lives.

Financial Clouds Again Hover Over Zion City—New York Woman Exiled.

FISH ALMOST DROWNS A MAN

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 9.—A stomach pump made of two pieces of fat pork tied in strings saved the lives of Ira Lloyd and his wife who were camping near Wapwallopen last night. They had eaten road stools by mistake for mushroom, and were overcome by the poison.
Other campers rushed for the nearest physician, several miles away, but J. W. Grant, who remained with them seeing that their condition was serious, invented the novel emetic by making each swallow a piece of pork attached to a string. Then he pulled the pork out slowly and this caused them to vomit freely and saved their lives.

Dressed as a Man For Two Years.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 9.—Deserted by her husband two years ago and forced to don male attire and work in the coal mines at Parkersburg, W. Va., is the experience of Mrs. Louise Daley, comely woman of 22 years. After laboring for over a year in the mines she became exhausted and then hearing that her husband was in Cleveland, she came here wearing men's clothes. She rode on freight trains and associated with tramps. She was arrested last night, having been taken for a tramp, and today told her story in police court. The authorities are trying to find employment for her.

After "Elijah" Dowle Again.

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 9.—While Mr. Dowle is preparing to spend money like water to start his Mexican colony project, financial clouds are lowering over his Zion City property, as they do nearly every fall. Besides the starting of numerous small suits his big creditors at Zion are beginning to complain at his lack of payment of the interest on their claims. Dowle owes at least $200,000 on first mortgages, it is said.

Exiled From New York.

New York, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Beatrice Young, who recently shot Mrs. Catherine Morgan, secured her freedom when the case came up in court by promising to become a voluntary exile from New York and to go west. She will probably go to her former home in Minnesota. The shooting came very near causing Mrs. Morgan's death, but she recovered and herself proposed that Mrs. Young be freed today provided she would leave the city.

Missed One Run in 13 Years.

Akron, O., Sept. 9.—Milton Householder, an Akron street car conductor, took his first vacation in 13 years this week. During that time he had only missed one run, and that was on account of sickness, and he has traveled 394,325 miles.

Aroused Over Talking Machine. Marion, O., Sept. 9.—Citizens of Marion are up in arms against "talking machines." They have stood for the piano practice and the girl taking lessons in voice culture, but the disk concertos are the limit. The chief complaint seems to be that the machines disturb their nightly slumbers, though some assert that they get tiresome through the daytime especially as they are forced to hear the same old tune many times a day. A long petition has been presented to the police. An investigation will be made.

Pulled Overboard by a Fish.

Elkhart Ind., Sept. 9.—Police Officer Scott Thomas landed a 25 pound pickerel in Painter Lake, the biggest catch on record in this section. The fish pulled him from the boat and with his heavy clothing and rubber boots he was nearly drowned before assistance arrived. The line caught on the oar lock and held the fish.

Died Dressing For Wedding.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 9.—While dressing here to attend the wedding of her sister, Mrs. Edward McVey, the sister of the bride-elect, was stricken with heart disease and succumbed to death.

She was attiring herself to attend the function and ceremony that named Miss Kate McVey to Judge John Park, of Kansas City. The bride's couple and the guests of the wedding were purposely kept in ignorance of the death and the ceremony was duly performed.

A Month For a Kiss.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 9.—J. F. Merrill, a private in company E, second infantry, is now serving a month in the bull pen at Fort Logan. He kissed Miss Daisy Hilton, and in so doing violated section 62 of the articles of war, relating to conduct unbecoming a soldier. At least that is what a summary court martial decided at the fort.

Louisville a Big League City.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 9.—Louisville stands an excellent chance to have representation in either the National or American league season after next. Harry Pulliam, president of the National league, and who was formerly a newspaper man of Louisville, is authority for the foregoing announcement. Mr. Pulliam informed a Louisville friend, who has just returned to this city from the east, that he thought that Louisville was entitled to a big league team because the fans here supported a losing team for many years, and demonstrated that a winner would be a big money-maker. The national agreement expires in another year, said Mr. Pulliam, "and then the work of reorganization will be started. Louisville would do much better than a number of cities that are now in both the American and National leagues, and I have little doubt but what a franchise will be granted to that city. The people have not only supported a losing big league team, but have turned out in large numbers to witness minor league ball."

Gov. Vardaman in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 9.—Governor J. K. Vardaman, of Mississippi, and family, fugitives from yellow fever, arrived in Louisville from Grayson Springs for a visit to Mr. Fred Walker, of Crescent Hill.
